

Eden Predicts Israel Will Be Next Goal For Nasser

Seizure Of Suez Key Issue

LONDON, Sept. 13 (AP) — Prime Minister Eden predicted tonight Egypt's President Nasser will attack Israel next if he gets away with seizure of the Suez Canal. Eden hinted Britain would go to Israel's rescue with arms if necessary.

Eden told the House of Commons there was no doubt that an attack on Israel would be the next step for a triumphant Nasser.

The House gave Eden a 319-248 vote of confidence on his Suez policies after he refused to promise not to use force if necessary in the crisis and said he would resort to the U. N. if Egypt violated treaty rights.

Before the final vote of confidence his supporters batted down a Labor motion of censure 321-251.

In the closing minutes of the debate Eden asked:

"What will be the next step if Col. Nasser is allowed to succeed in the action he has taken?"

No doubt

He added: "I have no doubt what it will be and I do not think the House has—Israel. Nasser called it 'the stage of imperialism' in the very speech in which he nationalized the canal."

Eden's hint of changes in Britain's arms policy toward Israel came in reply to a Labor party demand that Britain provide arms for self-defense of Israel.

Eden pointed out the issue before the House was Suez, but added: "I am not prepared to make a public statement on anything that may be happening on the other count at the present time."

The voting came hours after Egypt told the Western powers their plan to take over control of Suez traffic, if carried through, will flash off a new war.

The tense House brushed aside the Egyptian contention that setting up a canal users' association to run ships through it "means war."

The note stiffened the prime minister's campaign to keep the canal out of Nasser's sole control despite Laborite cries of "gunboat diplomacy."

There were similar votes of confidence in the House of Lords.

Eden mentioned the possibility of asking U. N. action after Labor party leader Hugh Gaitskill demanded to know whether the British government intended to shoot its way through the canal.

The Prime Minister said if Egypt barred the canal to any ship from the proposed users' association demand security council action.

Barring a ship would violate the Suez Convention of 1888 on free access to the canal, Eden said.

The plans announced for the users' association Wednesday hinted the first test of President Nasser's intentions might be by trying to send a ship with a fully qualified pilot through the canal.

Three Perish
In Bus,
Truck Wreck

MONROE, Mich., Sept. 13 (AP) — Three persons were killed and 22 injured today in a fiery head-on crash of a double-decked Greyhound bus and an auto-hauling truck loaded with cars.

600 Students Shun Clay School

CLAY, Ky., Sept. 13 (AP)—Boycotting of the Clay school spread today to some teachers as nearly 600 students shunned classrooms for a second day because two Negro pupils were admitted.

At the same time, Kentucky Atty. Gen. Jo M. Ferguson issued an opinion casting doubt on the legality of the Negro children being enrolled in the school.

The opinion, written at the request of the Webster County Board of Education, said "an individual parent has no right to enroll his child in a school without some action having been taken by the school board."

He added that if the matter were taken to court, it may be "the court will find Webster County has not acted with the 'deliberate speed' required by the Supreme Court."

Ten of 17 Clay teachers failed to report for class, two of the 10 resigned.

The mayor of Clay, Herman Z. Clark, said, "We will follow a policy of passive resistance by keeping our children out of school."

Unidentified

Only one unidentified third-grade boy remained in the three-story brick building with James and Teresa Gordon, the two Negro children. Outside, Kentucky National Guardsmen patrolled the school grounds.

The school principal, Miss Irene Powell, said the three pupils "are being taught regular classes."

At lunch time, she added, "they are served in the cafeteria."

She declined to identify the white boy but said he was in the same room with 8-year-old Teresa.

National Guardsmen opened the school to the Gordon children yesterday. Twice before angry crowds had turned the two Negro children and their mother, Mrs. James Gordon, away from the school.

The Gordon family car was escorted to school this morning by two state police cars. The adjutant general of the Kentucky guard, J. B. Williams, personally took the children by the hand and led them onto the school ground an hour and a half before class started.

He told one of his troopers: "Let them go in the front door when it opens just like white children."

Williams said, "The situation is still not resolved. This is a test case for all of Kentucky. We intend to win it. The governor—A. B. Chandler—will not back down one bit."

At Sturgis, 11 miles away, 250 white students showed up for class along with seven Negroes. It was the fourth straight day white students had attended class in any sizeable numbers. The school has an enrollment of about 375.

Bess Myerson
Dispute Settled

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP) — A dispute over the custody of the 9-year-old daughter of Bess Myerson, Miss America of 1945, has been "mutually and agreeably settled," it was announced tonight.

Supreme Court Justice Matthew M. Levy said the mother would have custody of the child, Barbara, and her husband, Allan Wayne, would have "certain rights of visitation." Wayne also contribute $1,800 a year for the child's maintenance and support.

Argentine
Workers Strike

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Sept. 13 (AP)—Argentine merchant marine workers began a 24-hour strike this morning in protest against a deadlock in labor-management talks on their demands for wage increases.

The million-member Commerce Workers Union announced it would stage a similar walkout tomorrow for the same reason. This walkout will shut down business offices, department stores and grocery shops.

Beef Hits
New High

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—Housewives are paying the highest prices for beef since the spring of 1953, the Department of Markets of New York reported today.

Porterhouse steak is generally selling at $1.25 a pound and rib roast at 79 cents a pound in retail markets here, the department said in its weekly food report. It said wholesale beef prices are at the highest levels in recent years.

A large food chain reported sirloin steaks have been advanced from 2 to 10 cents a pound virtually everywhere.

Stevenson
Terms Nixon
GOP Leader

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 13 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson declared tonight Dwight D. Eisenhower is running the country under "a part-time presidency" and the leadership of the Republican party has passed to Vice President Nixon.

The Democratic presidential nominee, in an address prepared for a $50-a-plate dinner, declared in his sharpest criticism yet of his Republican rival:

"Every one shares in sympathy for the circumstances which have created a part-time presidency. But we cannot understand—and we will not accept—turning the government over to men who work full-time for the wrong people or a limited group of people."

"And the plain truth is that this situation would get worse, not administration, because what influence the President has with his party in Congress has depended on his running again."

Future

"From here on the future of Republican leaders will depend not on Eisenhower but the Republican heir-apparent, Mr. Nixon. And the vice president seems to sail downwind no matter which way the wind blows."

"These are stern facts. To ignore them is perilous. They are the reasons America's human needs go today unmet. Nor will they be met so long as the President is not master in his own house."

Stevenson's campaign manager, James A. Finnegan, said 8,500 tickets were sold for the cafeteria-style buffet supper which preceded Stevenson's first major all-networks TV-radio address of the campaign, costing upwards of $200,000.

Using Finnegan's figures, the cold plate affair grossed $125,000 to be divided evenly between the national and Pennsylvania campaigns.

The speech was drafted for delivery in the State Farm Show building arena which seats 11,000. Finnegan said many of the ticket buyers did not attend the buffet. Other sources said employees of the Democratic state administration of Gov. George M. Leader were heavy ticket buyers.

Stevenson's advance text, made available a little more than three hours before his scheduled talk, estimated his direct audience at 10,000 Pennsylvanians "with the whole nation as our invited guests."

Questions

The subcommittee has had "a continuing interest" in Dio and other hoodlums since it questioned him behind closed doors last spring, Kennedy said.

McClellan described the inquiry into the Teamsters Union affairs as fitting into the subcommittee's search for evidence of graft and underworld influence in the making of contracts for the purchase of military uniforms.

Kennedy said the subcommittee has been exploring charges that racketeers have quietly obtained subcontracts to work on uniforms in graduate nonunion garment shops which they kept free from union organizing by various devices.

The transporting of goods, materials and finished products is a large item in contracts for the manufacture of the uniforms.

McClellan said he has assigned Carmine Bellino, the subcommittee's top accountant-investigator, and Paul Tierney, an assistant counsel who doubles as an investigator, to Yonkers to go through the union's records.

SCRANTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—Five persons connected with two firms that held contracts with the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission were indicted by a Lackawanna County grand jury today on conspiracy charges.

Keas, Clark's Summit, Pa., general manager; George D. Oswald, Dunmore, Pa., chief foreman of the flushing project; and Donald H. Burkert, Ashland, Pa., manu-mine engineer.

County Man
Suffers Serious Injuries

SAYLORSBURG — A Nebraska truck driver was killed instantly late last night when his head was crushed beneath the rear wheel of an auto operated by a Monroe County man on Route 115, about a mile north of Ross Common, near here.

Stroudsburg State Police said Stephen E. Gill, 39, of 119 S. Ninth St., Omaha, Neb., was killed following a collision of his truck and a 1953 sedan operated by William Beaver, about 24, of East Stroudsburg, RD 1.

Beaver and a companion, Richard Kucha, 30, a member of the Merchant Marines and a resident of Bellview, O., were admitted to Easton Hospital. Beaver suffered a possible chest fracture and internal injuries. Kucha's injuries were not immediately learned.

Northampton County Coroner George Kametz said Gill died instantly. The coroner listed the cause of death as a "double compound fracture of the head."

Investigation

Investigating Trooper Donald Henzey, accompanied by Trooper Steven Sabin, said Gill's head was crushed beneath the left rear wheel of Beaver's car, his truck traveled some 300 feet into a field.

Troopers said the car was traveling south on Route 115, when the accident occurred about 10:20 p.m. They were uncertain last night whether the truck was coming into the highway from a side road, or if it was proceeding north on Route 115.

Beaver and Kucha were removed to the hospital by the Wind Gap ambulance. The Monroe County General Hospital ambulance also responded.

FATAL CRASH: This 1953 sedan was involved in a collision with a stake-body truck late last night on Route 115, about a mile north of Ross Common, near Saylorsburg. Senators
Investigate
Union Strife

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP) — Charges of gangster influence in the strife-torn Teamsters Union Local No. 445 in Yonkers, N. Y., exploded today into a Senate investigation.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee, announced he has assigned two top sleuths to the inquiry. Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said the subcommittee has subpoenaed "virtually all of the union's records."

Kennedy said one objective is to learn whether a mysterious "Johnny D." reportedly named in the subpoenaed records, is Johnny Dio, the New York gangster now awaiting trial in connection with the said blinding of labor columnist Victor Riesel.

Conference

Dulles spoke out firmly at a jam-packed news conference a few minutes after receiving an urgent message from the Egyptian government bitterly assailing the new plan, which is sponsored by the Western Big Three.

The message was delivered by Ambassador Ahmed Hussein. An Egyptian Embassy statement said Dulles was told, "The scheme which Sir Anthony Eden wants to impose on Egypt is an open and flagrant aggression of Egyptian sovereignty and its implementation means war."

Eden is the British prime minister. The embassy said Hussein also informed Dulles:

"If the United States desires war, then she may support the scheme, but if her desire is to work for a peaceful solution, the scheme has to be abandoned."

In the face of this warning, Dulles told his news conference that Egypt's angry reaction "does not deter us from proceeding with this program." The plan was unveiled by Eden only yesterday.

Press officer Lincoln White said Dulles "fully covered" the American attitude in his five-minute meeting with Hussein earlier.

Dulles To Push
Suez Plan

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today the United States will push ahead with plans for a Suez Canal shippers' association despite Egypt's warning that implementation to the plan "means war."

At the same time Dulles stated this government does not intend to "shoot its way through" the canal if Egypt blocks the way.

Rather than risk war in the Middle East, he said, the United States is ready to send its shipping around the base of Africa, avoiding the waterway seized by Egypt July 26 in a nationalization move.

American loans to European countries would be considered, he announced, to help them buy Western Hemisphere oil if Middle East shipments are disrupted.

State Police
Crack Down
On 'Hot Rods'

BROOKHAVEN, N.Y. — Fern Ridge State Police are cracking down on "hot rodders," who have been burning up the highways in the Brookhaven area.

Troopers said "several" youths have already been arrested on motor vehicle charges. They warned that the drive will continue until the situation stops.

Speeding has been prevalent on Routes 209, and 115, as well as on rural roads, State Police said.

Kefauver
Raps Ike's
Farm Policy

YORK, Pa., Sept. 13 (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver contended today President Eisenhower's agricultural program has been a "get-rich-quick farm policy."

"In case you missed the newspapers in the past day or two, I bring you the information that Gen. Eisenhower has come out against 'get-rich-quick' programs for the American farmer," Kefauver, Democratic vice presidential candidate, said in an address at the York Interstate Fair.

Comment

He said the President made the comment at a Tuesday news conference, and noted:

"Get rich quick! Let Mr. Eisenhower tell his banker friends he's against their getting rich quick. Let him tell it to General Motors. Let him tell it to the well-heeled gentlemen he invites to those stag dinners at the White House."

East Borough Youths In Training

THIS WEEK Monroe County contributed two more soldiers to the Salvation Army's growing crusade "for the Lord's work."

They are Bill Thek, 20, and Betty Sargent, 19, both of East Stroudsburg.

Wednesday morning at 9 they left East Stroudsburg on their way to the "West Point" of the Salvation Army in The Bronx, New York City. They are training there this week to become officers.

For both Bill and Betty the road to Wednesday was a period of long waiting. Applications for their entrance in the school were made in mid-Winter, 1955. There followed a series of physical examinations and interviews.

The applications were accepted "finally," Bill said — in June, this year and they were notified of the date of their expected entry in the school.

Graduation

The notification came as both Bill and Betty were preparing to graduate from East Stroudsburg Area High School.

Less than a year from this week they will be commissioned as "probationary lieutenants" in the Salvation Army. As such they will be able to accept posts with citizens of S. A. units in any part of the country to which they may be sent.

Both young people were guests of honor this week at a farewell party at the Salvation Army Citadel in East Stroudsburg. At that party — with Capt. Charles Baker and Mrs. Doris Baker acting as supervisors — the other members of the Citadel congregation presented new Bibles to Bill and Betty.

The gifts were "the best present."

IN CHRISTIANITY: TOO MUCH FOR GRANTED—Fr. William Cusick, Pocono Missions, told St. Matthew's Holy Name Society members this week that Communists often seem to win footholds because they work hard, believe what they're told; Christians take too much for granted. In photo are Fr. Cusick, Edwin Gunnels, Thomas Leonard, Joseph Dane (president), Thomas Verway, Fr. John Esseff and Fr. Francis Barrett.

Murphy Named Director Of Deanery

ST. MATTHEW'S Holy Name Society held its first meeting for the year 1956-57 on Wednesday. Father John Esseff opened the meeting with a prayer.

It was announced by Joseph Dane, president of the Holy Name Society, that Frank Murphy was appointed deanery director of the National Council of Catholic Men for Pike and Monroe counties. Murphy told the members that there would be a general meeting at 8 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 21st at Mount Pocono.

Murphy invited all who are interested to attend to hear further from Bishop Jerome D. Hannan the exact functions of the N.C.C.M. Dane called on Father John Esseff who was recently appointed moderator of the Holy Name Society. Fr. Esseff gave a short talk on the duties of the men in the society.

Celebrities

In the absence of Anthony Archer, the program chairman for the year, Dane told the members that the officers and committee chairmen are planning outstanding programs for the year and intend to have two different sport celebrities at two different meetings.

Thomas Leonard, chairman for the meeting introduced the guest speaker Father William Cusick, Pocono Missions, who gave a talk on Communism. Father Cusick told how the Communists, who do not have the truth, believe in what they are told and have the zeal to make their cause a worthy one while we who know the truth take it too much for granted and do nothing about it.

Father Esseff closed the meeting with prayer.

There was a turkey buffet lunch served after the meeting.

Postoffice Lists Plan

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 13 (AP)—

The Post Office Department announced today a new plan will be put in effect Monday to speed up mail delivery to 286 suburban Philadelphia communities.

Under the plan, an outgrowth of one tried last Christmas, Paoli and Upper Darby post offices will be set up as main distribution centers for Chester, Delaware and Montgomery counties, and part of Bucks County.

Setup

Donald A. Myers, regional post office department director, said the main Philadelphia post office would be bypassed in the case of mail headed for the areas involved, thus insuring "next day" delivery of 250,000 pieces of mail.

At the present time mail addressed to points within the same area in the four counties goes first to the Philadelphia office before being sent back to the county involved.

The new plan will not affect upper Bucks County which uses the Easton post office, or lower Bucks County, which uses the Trenton, N.J., post office.

Picket On Duty At New Ronson Plant

Ironworkers, Carpenters In Dispute

DELAWARE WATER GAP — A picket line was set up at the new Ronson Corp. plant here yesterday in a jurisdictional dispute between the carpenters and ironworkers.

The dispute involves Bethlehem Local 36, International Association of Ironworkers, and Stroudsburg Local 501, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners.

Bernard Tognoli of Bethlehem, ironworkers business agent, last night declined to divulge the cause of the dispute. However, he said he is expecting instructions on the matter from his union's international in Washington.

Business Agent

Meanwhile, carpenters' business agent Gerald Heckman of East Stroudsburg, said work will be continued by the five carpenters now working at the plant, because his union considers the ironworkers picket to be "illegal" because "the grievance has not been ruled on." Heckman indicated it is standard procedure to submit a grievance to a joint board to act on the matter.

R. S. Noonan of York is the contractor.

Teachers Receive Praise

HAMBURG, Pa., Sept. 13 (AP)—Washington, D.C. church leader said today elementary and intermediate school teachers should be given credit for playing a major role in the development of today's young people.

In an address prepared for the opening session of the four-day conference of the Eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey Seventh Day Adventists, Dr. Richard Hammill said:

Too Often

"Too often the role of the teacher is relegated to a minor position by society whereas it should stand high in the list of juvenile influences."

Dr. Hammill, who is associate secretary of the educational department of the church's general conference, said there is today a "serious lack of teachers and school rooms which is plaguing America's educational program."

The conference is being attended by teachers from Adventist parochial schools in Eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey. The sessions which wind up on Sunday, are being held at nearby Blue Mountain Academy.

Fellowship Lists Officers

NEW OFFICERS have been named for the Senior Methodist Youth Fellowship at East Stroudsburg Methodist Church.

They are: Joyce Warner, president; Harry Miller, vice president; Barbara Miller, secretary; Ruth Ann Sayre, treasurer.

Fellowship members plan to hold a hot dog roast this Sunday at Resaca Falls. Members will meet at the church at 4:30 p. m. Transportation will be supplied.

The thieves drove off 800 bullocks pastured on a lonely 40,000-acre property in western Queensland. The cattle were worth $44,000 slaughtered. In 1870 another gang of thieves got away with 1,000 head, driving the herd 1,500 miles overland to Adelaide.

'Malady Of Spectatoritis' Topic Of Talk Presented By Rev. Catterall To Kiwanis

BANGOR — The "Malady of Spectatoritis" was discussed by the Rev. Roland Catterall, pastor of the Bangor Presbyterian Church, at the dinner meeting of the Kiwanis Club at the Colonial Hotel last night.

People today are willing to sit back and be entertained by television and radio, the speaker asserted. This, he claimed, has affected talent, musical instrument playing in the home is a lost art. The general way of life, even the church, has been influenced.

But he noted that various activities are afoot to combat 'spectatoritis.' Organizations such as the Kiwanis, he said, carry on creative work in the community.

While he observed that television tends to keep the people at home, the creative activity of family life is losing out. There is no longer the time for Christian education or help in school work. Parents do not want their leisure hours as spectators to be interrupted.

William Zackey, program chairman and song leader, introduced the speaker, Lt. Edward Knox presented the certificate of appreciation. Walter Ebert, president, was in charge. James Drury acted as song leader. The Rev. J. Frederick Stoltz, Ph.D., offered the invocation.

Harold Stuart and Harold Crane, of the Easton Kiwanis, in addition to the Rev. Dr. Stoltz, pastor emeritus of local Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, were guests.

C. H. Dietrich reported visiting A. C. Oberholtzer and S. H. Hamm, members who are at home due to illness, and said that both are convalescing nicely.

Two Members Of Chess Club Return To Active Standing

TWO MEMBERS of the Stroudsburg Chess Club, Mitchell Stackhouse, W. Main St., and Bernard J. Roan, Barrett, who have been unavoidably absent from club sessions for some time, reported at Thursday night's regular meeting. The meeting was held at the office of John M. Price, club president.

Stackhouse sustained a broken leg in a fall at his home four months ago and for many weeks was confined, first to his home and then the hospital.

Roan, who is a teacher in the Barrett Township School, was on Sabbatical leave the past school year and, with Mrs. Roan, enjoyed trips to Mexico and Europe. During the Summer he was busy in recreational work at a boys' camp, Lake Winnebago, N. H.

Contest

The two returnees signaled their presence by playing one another. They engaged in a stubborn, even and well thought out game, in which the victory finally inclined to the Barrett man.

Joseph Kushner, club star, demonstrated that he has, by no means, relinquished his championship by taking a lively and spirited game from Louis Mondelle. He then took on Earle Weiss and administered a salutary trouncing to that aspirant to his title.

Harold James defeated A. J. Viosak, Mount Pocono.

Sidney Kushner, son of the champ and youngest member of the club, played three games with William P. Deering. They used a specially carved set of Aztec motif purchased in Mexico by Roan and the unusual type pieces drew much attention. In the series of three games Deering took two and Kushner one. Roan then won over Mondelle.

Price

Paul LaBar, faculty manager, announced that the price of tickets will be $5 and entitles the purchaser to see six home games including the Pen Argyl contest.

Immediately upon the purchasing of a season pass at this price a reserved seat ticket for the Bangor-Pen Argyl game is issued to the purchaser. Each person may purchase a limit of six tickets, LaBar stated.

Viaduct Should Be Rebuilt At Site Where It Will Serve Public Best

Some differences of opinion exist over where the proposed new Route 90 viaduct spanning Broadheads Creek and the Lackawanna Railroad should be located.

One group favors the old location between Pinebrook Camp and Anomink; the railroad prefers a site farther downstream near Gravel Place crossing.

Both sides offered testimony here this week before a Public Utility Commission examiner. The matter now rests with the PUC, which will hand down the final decision.

Also left unsettled was the problem of financing the reconstruction. All parties expressed unwillingness to take on the financial burden that building a new bridge would entail. Their reasons were varied.

The old viaduct was washed out in the 1955 flood. It had served many years as a vital link between the Stroudsburg, Clearview and Pinebrook sections and those lying on the opposite side of the creek and railroad tracks.

Just as important, the span carried Route 90 traffic from the main arteries (Routes 611 and 209) into the heart of the Pocono Mountains resort communities north of Anomink.

Since the flood, traffic has taken a circuitous route either by way of Stokes Mill and Gravel Place or through East Stroudsburg. Most resorts in the Barrett section directed their guests to travel an even longer route—by way of Mount Pocono—during the recent vacation season.

An ambitious highway program is in the books for the entire Poconos region. It calls for much new road construction as well as improvement of a number of present highways. It can be readily seen that the prospect is for a steady increase in travel here within the foreseeable future.

Route 90 is one of the highways that will carry much of the greater traffic load moving into and out of the mountains. As such, it should receive high priority in any planning for highway improvement.

It is only reasonable, therefore, to demand that the viaduct be reconstructed at the site where it will serve to the best advantage of the greatest number of people. The cost of the completed project—and who will pay—is secondary to reaching a practical solution.

The main problem of finding the proper site should be ironed out without delay before the PUC reaches its decision. All parties involved should take part—the township, county, state, railroad, as well as the federal government if it is possible to include the project in the federal highway program.

The interests of the public must be served, even though it will be necessary for one or more of the parties to compromise their stand.

Income Tax Law Gives Dad And Junior Good Break In Filing Their Returns

How junior's summer earnings may affect the family income tax return has frequently been a concern of fathers. Yet under certain circumstances present Federal tax regulations operate to give both father and junior a break in compiling their income tax returns.

To qualify, the dependent can be under 19 or at any age if he is a full-time student and if his father contributes more than half his support during the year. The father then can claim a $600 dependency allowance and the son, earning $600 or more, is still entitled to his own personal exemption.

The Commerce Clearing House cites the following example: An unmarried student is employed Saturdays and during vacation at $8 per day, earning $800 for the year, of which $115 is withheld as tax. His parents pay $1,000 toward his support and tuition. They claim the dependency exemption and the student files a return, paying a tax of $26 and claiming his own personal exemption and a refund of $89 excess tax withheld.

To qualify as a student the dependent must be either a full-time attendant at an educational institution or taking a full-time course of institutional on-farm training under accredited supervision for five-months of the taxable year.

Hoffman's Defense Of Fund For Republic Differs With Others On Fighting Commies

Paul Hoffman of the Fund for the Republic delivered a most interesting address on how to keep America strong and free. In effect, it is a defense of the Fund for the Republic and its work, but what Hoffman says is of value because it explains how different men can believe that they are aiming at the same target while actually each believes that the other has missed altogether.

Hoffman's contention is that he and his Fund for the Republic are fighting Communism. Most active and long-time anti-Communists would say that both Hoffman and his Fund are running interference for the Communists. To that Hoffman has replied, in advance, as follows:

"When I left the ECA in the fall of 1950 to join the Ford Foundation, I took a look at what was going on in America in the name of fighting Communism—I was shocked and appalled. In too many instances I found the Bill of Rights being trampled upon, freedom of speech and inquiry being flouted and guilt by association replacing due process of law. People labeled as controversial were being denied the use of public auditoriums. Irresponsible publicity seekers were accusing everyone who did not agree with their methods of fighting Communists of being soft on Communism."

It is all in the point of view. If the target is the same, namely, the elimination of Communism from American life, the difference arises to a degree from the difference in experience. It would be of value to read a bill of particulars on how the Bill of Rights were trampled upon. Who did the tramping?

The phrase, the Bill of Rights, appears nowhere in our Constitution but it generally refers to the first ten amendments, which are no more important than any other clauses of the Constitution. The Constitution has to be taken as a whole and for a correct study of it, it is necessary to read a good many of the decisions of the Supreme Court which not only explain the meaning of the phraseology but often so define and orient the law as to become part of the Constitution itself. This is particularly true of the decisions of Chief Justice John Marshall who had the task of pioneering in judicial interpretation.

All this being so, it would be interesting to know precisely what Hoffman meant when he said that freedom of speech and inquiry were "being flouted." I do not know of an instance of a Communist speaker being arrested for making a Communist speech or of an inquiry into any field of human knowledge being what Hoffman calls "flouted." The reply might be that everybody knows what Paul Hoffman means, but hearsay is not knowledge. On the other hand, I think that I could without difficulty produce a list of anti-Communists who have lost the opportunity to be heard. Maybe they lacked in ability, but it is singular that so many of them should have been discarded.

The whole matter of "guilt by association" is again a question of legalistic interpretation. Paul Hoffman himself uses the phrase "guilt by association." "Communist conspiracy in the United States." A conspiracy cannot be conducted by one man alone. A conspiracy, to be such in the eyes of the law, involves two or more persons in association to do something which they should not do. Therefore, if there is a conspiracy, it is necessary to have conspirators. Every conspiracy involves guilt by association, guilt by consorting. In municipal law, for instance, in some places, the police are empowered to arrest one for consorting with a known criminal.

If therefore one associates constantly with Communists, it is possible to say that the person has a reason for preferring them, for consorting with them. Association with a Communist is no crime, but it discloses a preference and creates a reason for doubt and even wonderment.

Paul Hoffman, in his speech, said: "... Only a handful of maladjusted, tormented, rebellious Americans ever subscribed to the weird Marxist ideology." I only wish that were true. Marxist ideas are not in 1954 as weird as they appeared to be in 1917. They have worked their way into many fields of intellectual activity, particularly the concept of man being a product of his environment, of the tools he uses. This basic Marxist idea has moved far into much of the life of the world in 1954.

Watson.—Quite true, Holmes. But what is your theory?

Holmes.—I believe the culprit was not a thief at all, and probably a very honest man.

Watson.—I don't follow you.

Holmes.—The scene of the theft was not too far from a golf course, especially if you consider the distances traveled by golfers with a bad slice who get lost in the rough. In my opinion this man was a golf addict playing an unusually erratic game.

Watson.—You mean he just wandered off the links?

Holmes.—Precisely. He kept whacking away and whacking away losing all traces of his whereabouts, and ultimately came up against the building wall. He was convinced that the ball was in a clump of foliage against the wall and tried to play it out.

Watson.—Why such desperation?

Holmes.—It was his last ball!

Watson.—But whacking a hole through a brick wall with a golf club is impossible!

Skiping School Grades Is A National Problem

School administrators are busy with more than just getting the bus route worked out, and deciding whether Miss Jones should inherit that awful Smith kid—or maybe he would respond better to Mr. Harber.

"Gifted" children are occupying what some educators feel is more than their share of attention—publicity-aggrandizement. "In the wind these days is much lay chatter about 'using our brilliant young minds to the best advantage.' Laymen do not question so much that these bright children are being properly taught; their concern is more that so few of them are encouraged to continue with college, after high school. The 'waste' referred to is not in school, but that schooling ceases too soon.

Parents get quite emotionally involved about their young, particularly concerning early school years. Quite naturally. Some of them get right upset, particularly when Junior, the firstborn, trots off to kindergarten. 'This child is 'way ahead of himself; he can write and count and read. Why don't they put him a year ahead, NOW?'

Parents, eager to believe the first one is an intellectual Harvard-bound young Einstein, are not averse to repeating the admiration of friends and neighbors which accrues from having Johnny "skipped" ahead. When school authorities insist that, however bright he is, young John must remain with his own age group, great are the outraged cries of "arbitrary age limits."—"They make no allowances for superior intelligence."

From an easy and thoughtless grade-skipping so prevalent 30 years ago, the pendulum has swung too far, some teachers believe—back to the firm stand that skipping harms a bright child more than it helps. Plenty of folk now in their 40s are utter blanks in long division or ancient history or English grammar, having skipped the year when those subjects were taught. Or a few professional men were rushed through college in two years—for what? Just for the two years, it seems. But they missed a wealth of liberal education.

The schools are thinking, studying and exploring every known means to give brilliant students the best possible curriculum and instruction. They don't know just what that is or should be.

Some believe in "acceleration" or skipping for children so advanced as to be misfits among their own age group. Other schools take early and keen note of potential brains, holding these talented children to a normal grade level but encouraging them with heavier assignments, enriched extra curricular programs, "visiting" experiences in higher grades for speeches, reports, reading and research. Teachers spend themselves to provide individual guidance for such children. They counsel with parents, with administrators and specialists in their attempt to develop without exploiting the gifted child.

Still the troublesome questions arise—what is a "gifted" child? By what measurement? What of those gifted only in one area, such as music, and average in others? What of those whose physical and social development falls far below their intellectual status?

How goes it in your school system? How do they feel about skipping? What percentage of gifted children has your community? The national average is one percent, or slightly less.

Try and Stop Me —by Bennet Cerf

Maybe the last word on the royal and ancient game of golf was passed by two wealthy Chinese merchants of San Francisco who were invited to spend a day at a country club outside Berkeley and saw, for the first time, a couple of duffers trying to hack their way out of a sand trap.

"Wouldn't you think," observed Ah Sing, "that men as rich as that could get servants to perform such arduous and unpleasant labor for them?"

A gent who was a champion in the gentle art of getting into arguments, began expounding a position with increasing passion to a stranger next to him in the club car of the Santa Fe Chief. The stranger remained disturbingly uninterested.

The arguer hollered, "Don't you understand what I'm driving at? It's as simple as A-B-C."

"Could be," replied the stranger calmly, "but I am D-E-F."

Lausche Unbeatable In Ohio So He Should Defeat Bender

(Robert S. Allen is on vacation. During his absence, his column today is by George Benson, editor, The Toledo Times, as the hectic and momentous senatorial battle in Ohio between Governor Frank Lausche and Senator George Bender. Mr. Benson is a former top Washington correspondent and knows politics, especially in Ohio, inside out.)

By George Benson

Editor, The Toledo Times

Toledo, Ohio, Sept. 13.—My bona fides as a political prophet may be a little shaky, but I herewith present them for a specific purpose, to wit: to bespeak, ever so softly, the election of Gov. Frank Lausche to the U. S. Senate, in succession to the late Robert A. Taft, sub Thomas Burke, sub George Bender, both of whom have had a sad fling at the role. No journalist, I know, likes to embalm an orphic failure in print, but shamelessly I take the risk, for all my research strongly shows that Choirmaster George Bender, the basso profundo of the Senate, simply cannot set Lausche aside, though he will come closer to it than others have done.

Why this should be so, I do not know; that is, I cannot understand why his eminence, the only five-term Governor in the history of the state, should be such an unprecedented vote getter. Certainly, he has done nothing in an office he has held, to earn such enormous respect and support, but there it is, set down on the record, year after year: Lausche, the Great! Lausche, the Unbeatable!

There are a couple of clues, however. One is that Republicans, particularly among the boys with the money bags, the big industrialists, etc., learned that Brother Lausche is as much of a Republican conservative as he was a Democratic New Dealer. In short, he could be depended upon to do nothing that would cause an upheaval, even an unpleasant ripple, so they divined up for him, worked for him, voted for him.

In this campaign for the Senate, Lausche has one big advantage over Mr. Bender, namely: he is, by every test, big league demagogue, a virtuoso in the art, whereas Bender is a bush-league, somewhat ill at ease when he attempts demagoguery. Lausche is a part-time Democrat, a phony Democrat, as Harry Truman put it. Bender is a full-time, solid-gold Republican, devoted to President and constituents, whom he serves assiduously and effectively, as he always did when in the House.

And there, when you come down to it, you find the sole argument for electing Bender: Mr. Eisenhower must have a Republican Congress, if he is to complete his lousy program for the American people, and, therefore, Ohio must give him a firm party Senator. But Dr. Lausche has taken some of the edge off that occasion, that, if he's elected, and the party lineup is close, he might vote with the Republicans to organize the Senate. True, this remark has hurt him among the Democrats, most of them on the national level, but it will not lose him enough votes to be noticed. Ohioans, even the Democrats, are used to his flip flops.

At the moment, Lausche is engaged in a dispute with the large cities of the state, over the matter of providing a local share of the cost of road building under the new Federal law, and it may disadvantage him in these heavily voting urban centers, particularly around Cleveland, where it would be extremely difficult. Lausche insists that the cities divvy up the 10 per cent share of the cost left after the U. S. Treasury puts up 90 percent; in other words that the state put up nary a dollar. The cities want the 10 percent divided equally; 5 percent from the state, 5 percent from the benefited city.

This fight has become a very hot one, but while it may lower Lausche's vote, I see no chance of bringing it down sufficiently to let Bender squeeze through. Bender, of course, is well known throughout the state, for he served a number of terms in the House as one of Ohio's Representatives at large. But in those days, he was not running against Lausche who always swamped an opponent in his home county: Cuyahoga, in which is located Cleveland, which became, in effect, a political empire of his. Cuyahoga county bears the same relation to Ohio elections as New York City does to the State of New York.

In other words, Bender to win, must not lose it by more than $100,000 votes. To every political expert in the state, this stands as an impossibility, for Lausche has had a habit of winning the county by infinitely more than 100,000.

This, he does, mind you, on all occasions, and despite the fact that he never presents a good program, save in noble generalities, and never discusses an issue. Bender beats him hands down on that, and will do so this year. Indeed, when it comes to realities, Bender will outdo him, but no matter. The Senator's lacrimal glands are not as potent as Lausche's, and thus he cannot weep as much, and that is a great disadvantage, for the Governor has wept his way into more than one victory. In short, it is, as I have said, a one-sided contest between an arch demagogue and a much lesser one.

You're Telling Me

You're Telling Me... Mon x Joe Dr. Earl T. Carter, Ohio State aviation medicine brain, says man's first space flight will be in 20 years. That's when man will get away from it ALL.

Dr. Carter spent six years studying human breathing under abnormal conditions. He should've been given normal conditions.

"Man was not created for space travel," says Dr. Carter, and there may be something in that. You can't expect a man to find a planet thousands of millions of miles away if he can't even find the right-hand side of the highway.

"The human cannot live without his natural environment," Dr. Carter says. Well, the way the human's got his environment now, he may not live long with it, either.

American university's Dr. Theodore Xenophon Barber reports that some forms of light sleep are a state of hypnosis. Getting up must be a snap.

The Once Over

Three thousand golf balls were stolen from a Chicago warehouse by somebody who hacked a hole in the brick wall. This is the most fascinating crime of the year and presents, at first thought, these problems:

1.—Who would be playing such wild golf that he would need desperately

2.—Why would he steal 3,000 balls but no clubs?

3.—Is it possible the man was not a golfer, but just somebody who, working in the dark, mistook the 3,000 golf balls for badly needed miracle pills?

Sherlock Holmes is on the case

Holmes.—You are too superficial, Watson. No man could find himself among 3,000 golf balls and not realize he was making a major mistake. Millions of men may have one or two golf balls and behave irresponsibly, but place 3,000 at their disposal suddenly and they would react quite differently.

Holmes.—Wrong, Watson. I have observed golfers on practice ranges and no ball hit by them goes far enough to be reported missing.

Holmes.—But whacking a hole through a brick wall with a golf club is impossible!

Yom Kippur Services Begin

YOM KIPPUR, or Day of Atonement, services will be conducted tonight and tomorrow in Temple Israel, East Stroudsburg.

A candle-lighting service at 6:18 p.m. today will open the observance. It will be followed at 6:30 by the Kol Nidrei, with Rabbi Yehudah E. Perkin officiating and preaching a sermon.

On Saturday, morning services will begin at 8 a.m. and the Yizkor, or memorial service, at 11 a.m.

Rabbi Perkin explained that Yom Kippur is a day of rest. Every kind of work that is forbidden on the Sabbath is also forbidden on this day. It is called in the Bible the Sabbath of Sabbaths; therefore it is the holiest day of the year for the Jew.

"This festival teaches us noble lessons for the guidance of our lives and lofty ideals of our faith," Rabbi Perkin said. "A significant custom is begging forgiveness of one another. Yom Kippur prayers and fasting atone only for sins committed against God and not for wrongs incurred toward fellowmen."

The spiritual leader added: "These wrongs are not forgiven unless one makes up with the person wronged or offended. Persons not on speaking terms make peace with one another, the younger of the two usually taking the initiative. Enemies are expected to become friends, hatreds and wrongs are to be forgotten."

"Thus Yom Kippur serves to promote friendship and good will among men. To cultivate self-control in face of all temptation, Scripture bids us on this day to suppress our appetites and desires, and deny ourselves many of the pleasures in which we indulge during the year.

"We must afflict our souls from the evening of the ninth to the evening of the 10th day of Tishrei by abstaining from all kinds of food and drink. Thus do Jews all over the world fast all day of Yom we recall the love, the affection Kippur from sundown to sundown and ask forgiveness of sin from man to God and from man to man," Rabbi Perkin added.

"On this sacred day perhaps the most solemn moment is reached in a touching memorial service which will be recited for the dead on Saturday morning. Once again we recall the love, the affection and the devotion we enjoyed when our departed ones were alive.

"Yom Kippur is the festival of the soul, so the ancient words of the memorial service mingle with the solemn prayer for continuation of life, prosperity and happiness. No day is more apt to appeal to the spiritual within us than the Day of Atonement.

"In our restless and shifting daily life the spirit of materialism and of pleasure-seeking dominates. It depends upon us to make this day a day of atonement — to practice deeds of kindness, to bring the ideal and the real closer together. Its influence should stay with us for the whole year and thus help to bring us to the desired state of holiness and perfection.

"If the people of the world would practice the lesson of Yom Kippur to repent and do justice, then the prophecy of Isaiah would become a reality and war would not be known anymore.

"From Isaiah II, Paragraph IV, 'And they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war anymore.'

"According to tradition, the verdict of every man, woman and child is inscribed in the Book on Rosh Hashannah and sealed on the Day of Atonement. Let us hope that the final verdict be favorable and the re-echo of Yom Kippur, 'I have forgiven,' Sholachti — be heard."

BLOWING OF THE RAM'S HORN reminds Jews on the Day of Atonement of the Great Day of Judgment, that all may fear and return to repentance and good will to God and to Mankind. Here the Horn is being blown by Rabbi Yehudah E. Perkin, now spiritual leader of Temple Israel, East Stroudsburg. Jews will observe the Day of Atonement, or Yom Kippur, starting tonight at sundown.

Cigarettes May Set Mark

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 13 —A government tobacco expert today predicted that domestic consumption of cigarettes this year will approach or equal the all-time record established in 1952.

Stephen E. Wraether told the annual convention of the National Tobacco Tax Assn. that cigarette production and consumption has been on the upswing and should continue to rise.

Wraether, director of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Tobacco Division, said cigarette production hit a high of 425.5 billion in 1952, but experienced a dip after that. So did cigarette consumption.

He predicted that about 425 billion cigarettes will be produced this year and that domestic consumption "will in all probability equal or closely approach the all-time high attained in 1952."

Vernon E. Frailey, 609 Main St., local representative of Nationwide Insurance, is currently taking part in a drive to put his company in the "billion-in-force" class in life insurance. Hitting the goal this year will, according to Frailey, put Nationwide in a select circle that includes only 63 life companies out of nearly 1,100 in business today.

Frailey, who has been associated with the insurance firm for 18 years, said that Billion-in-Force campaign is "probably the most ambitious service drive in the company's history."

He announced that as of July 31 the firm had more than $37,000,000 of life insurance in force. Nationwide, writing all lines of insurance, operates in 14 eastern states and the District of Columbia.

Business offices of the Citizens Gas Co. at 12 S. Seventh St. are being redecorated by the owners of the building, the First Stroudsburg National Bank.

The new decor will be a cream ceiling, apple green walls and a dark green dado strip, Holden said.

During the renovations certain equipment has been temporarily moved from the location into the old Monroe Water Supply Co. offices next door.

The job is expected to be completed by Oct. 1, Holden said.

My Daddy's On The Ball!

He just had M. F. Weiss install one of those wonderful Bethlehem Dynatherm Automatic Oil Burner Units in our house. You know, he shopped around and said he couldn't possibly find a better Oil Burner at any price! He told mommy that the savings he's going to make in oil in the next 5 to 10 years, just because those Bethlehem Dynatherm's are so efficient, will more than pay for this new installation. And just think how comfortable we're going to be all winter . . . we're going to have all the heat we need, when we need it! I heard daddy also say that they have 24 hour service, and that's another reason he let M. F. Weiss do our heating installation. Yes . . . sir I really got some daddy!

Display Advertising Copy

DEADLINES

Advertising copy deadlines, just as news copy deadlines, are necessary . . . in fact, are imperative to the publication of a newspaper.

Enforcement of deadlines makes it possible to give readers a better newspaper, delivered on schedule. A better newspaper, promptly delivered to all sections of the trading area, means a better advertising medium.

It follows that adequate time for the proper handling of advertising copy, without interference with the mechanics of news production . . . and without jeopardizing the "on time" delivery of the newspaper . . . permits the better handling of advertising copy to work to the advantage of the advertiser in a better advertising medium.

In the interest of better serving ALL advertisers, all copy for display advertising, including CLASSIFIED DISPLAY, must meet the following deadlines:

Monday Copy	5 P.M. Friday
Tuesday Copy	12 Noon Saturday
Wednesday Copy	5 P.M. Monday
Thursday Copy	5 P.M. Tuesday
Friday Copy	5 P.M. Wednesday
Saturday Copy	5 P.M. Thursday

(Holiday Intervening—5 P.M. 3 days before publication)

When Proof Is Required
Prior To Publication of the Ad

The Deadline Is Noon
(Instead of 5 P.M.) on the days indicated above

I put in a Weil-McLain Radiant Baseboard System...that gives me the edge in two ways! First, better heating, more comfort. More radiant heat—no icy drafts from the windows. It's a forced circulation hot water system, so the temperature is automatically kept at the comfort level.

Second, in the long run I'll more than make up the difference in cost! Weil-McLain Baseboards and Boilers are cast iron—virtually a lifetime installation. No frequent repairs—no replacement of equipment. It's a better buy all around...that's why my house has a higher resale value and I got better mortgage terms.

WHO DOOD IT? — The state began constructing a road in Greentown three years ago, but suddenly stopped. This shovel has been on the site since that time, except for operation for a brief period during the flood cleanup. Somebody, undoubtedly tired of the halt in operation, placed the sign shown above on the shovel.

Pope's Doctor Reveals Hope For Senility

ROME, Sept. 13 (AP)—The personal physician of Pope Pius XII said today that including partially incubated eggs mixed with the food of queen bees helps to prevent senility in humans.

Prof. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi, who has been personal physician to the Pope for more than 20 years, was reporting to the second World Dietetic Congress here. More than 400 experts from 40 nations are attending.

Resistance — "Undoubtedly, chicken eggs incubated for nine days are a constructive food which increases the physical resistance against disease and, consequently, prolongs life," he said.

Dr. Galeazzi-Lisi said research he conducted with his son, Dr. Antonello Galeazzi-Lisi, had disclosed the added benefits of mixing the eggs with "royal gelatin." This is the food which worker bees bring to the queen bee.

He did not say whether the egg mixture had been used by the Pope.

Soviet Union Gives Atomic Power Plant Model To U.S.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept. 13 (AP)—The Soviet Union gave the U. N. today a model of the first Soviet operating atomic power plant and said it is introducing atomic energy into the U.S.S.R. national economy in every possible way.

Georgi P. Saksin, acting permanent representative of the Soviet Union at the U. N., made the presentation in a short speech prepared for a ceremony attended by a number of U. N. delegates and Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld.

Surprise — Presentation of the model, unveiled at the Geneva atomic conference last year, caught several countries by surprise. The United States and four others were preparing exhibits to be opened Sept. 19 but the Russians stole a march.

Saksin said the model is of the first industrial atomic power plant in the world. He said it was constructed and put into operation in the Soviet Union in the summer of 1954.

Detailing some of the atomic plans for Russia, Saksin said that during the 4th five-year plan from 1955-1960 the Soviet Union will build atomic power plants having a total capacity of 2½ million kilowatts. Also, he said, Russia is building the first ice-breaker propelled by atomic energy and it will accompany ships from Europe to Asia and back without refueling for two and three years.

Treasury Balance

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—Cash position of the Treasury Sept. 13: Balance $2,084,000,000. Deposits $11,004,000,000. Withdrawals $11,000,000,000. Total debt $22,000,000,000. Total assets $23,000,000,000. Subject to statutory limit.

Suez Canal Issue Hits Stock Market

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—A promising early advance turned into irregularity today in nervousness over the Suez Canal crisis but steel, aircrafts and selected oils ended the stock market session with some good advances.

The gains ran as much as 4 points or so among pivotal stocks. Losses were kept generally within the range of a point.

After the initial advance, a mood of extreme caution prevailed and values melted prior to Secretary of State Dulles' scheduled press conference. The market was quiet for a considerable time as it slowly digested the news that the United States would go ahead with plans for a Suez shippers association despite Egypt's warning that the scheme "means war." The situation was softened by Dulles' statement that the United States would not "shoot its way through" the canal.

Cometback

The effect was a slow comeback among the previous leaders in the market and some were at their best of the day at the close.

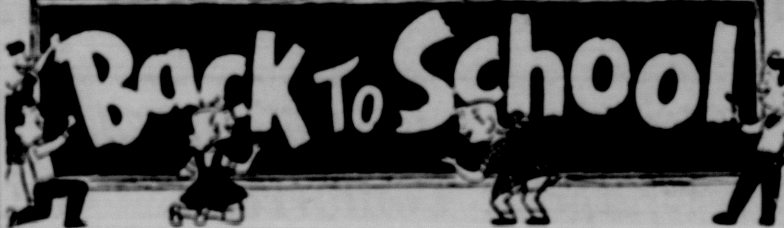

Notably among these was heavily-traded Royal Dutch which drew big interest because of Wall Street reports that a proposal to split the stock would be made at its directors' meeting Monday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped 40 cents to $181.10 with the industrials down 50 cents, the rails down $1.00 and the utilities up 19 cents.

Of 1,151 issues traded, declines outnumbered advances by 482 to 403. There were 75 new lows for the year and 10 new highs.

Volume for the day totaled 2,000,000 shares compared with 1,930,000 yesterday.

For the fourth session in a row, American Telephone was the most active stock, losing ¼ at 172½ on 71,000 shares. Second was Standard Oil (New Jersey) off ¼ at 54½ on 44,000 shares. Third was Royal Dutch, up ¼ at 107½.

Scranton Water Company Seeks To Sell Gas

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 (AP)—Rulison Evans, president of the Scranton Spring Brook Water Service Co., Wilkes-Barre, Pa., told the Federal Power Commission today that if authorization to sell natural gas is obtained the company plans to reduce its rates.

Evans, testifying at a commission hearing said:

"The introduction of natural gas into the communities served will provide adequate firm capacity at a minimum expenditure."

Scranton-Spring Brook seeks FPC approval to convert its manufactured gas facilities to natural gas in its Scranton and Wilkes-Barre divisions.

Opposition

The conversion move is opposed by anthracite coal interests, the United Mine Workers Union and numerous railroads serving the area.

Attorneys for the three opposing groups maintained at today's opening of the hearing that coal provides an adequate fuel for the area and that introduction of natural gas into the "heart of the anthracite mining region" would only cause further economic distress.

If FPC authorization is given, the gas would be supplied by the Tennessee Natural Gas Transmission Co.

Lab Working On Atomic Rockets

LOS ALAMOS, N. M., Sept. 10 (AP)—The Los Alamos atomic laboratory disclosed today it has been working on atomic-powered rockets for the last year.

Laboratory officials would not reveal the status of their research which if successful would go a long way in opening the bridge to space, and which could power missiles of unlimited range.

Existence of the N Division at this laboratory where the atomic bomb was developed was disclosed in a brief press release announcing the employment of an engineer, William F. Carlson, Bristol, Conn.

The release identified the N Division as "concerned with the research and development of nuclear rocket propulsion." This was the first public word of existence of the project, heretofore under a tight secrecy lid.

One employee of the laboratory said the decision to lift the lid slightly was with the idea of allowing the laboratory to tell scientists who were "hot prospects" for employment about the work they would be doing.

Heading the N Division is Dr. Raemer Schreiber, a native of Minneapolis, Ore. Schreiber, 45, was on the Los Alamos staff which developed the first atomic bomb under the Army's Manhattan Project.

The Green Thumb

Temperature Important Factor In Ripening Of Tomatoes, Sunlight Has Little Bearing

By George Abraham
GREEN TOMATOES: A good many readers of this department are feeling blue about their green tomatoes. Low temperatures and ample soil moisture have delayed maturity. What can be done to hasten their ripening?

A point to remember is that temperature is what ripens and colors tomatoes and peppers. Sunlight has little bearing on ripening dates. If your tomatoes are nice and plump, but green, they won't color up until you get a constant temperature of anywhere from 65 degrees F. to 75 degrees F. The red pigment develops fastest at 75 to 80 degrees F. Color development, Cornell specialists tell us is slow at temperatures below 65 degrees and is almost completely checked at temperatures below 55 degrees, which we've been having in many areas.

Sunshine

We've been asked if removing the leaves now will help hasten ripening. This will help you get more direct sunshine to the fruit and thus hasten maturity from one to three days. Removing the leaves raises the fruit temperature by allowing more direct sunshine. This practice has the disadvantage of exposing more fruits to early light frosts that would normally not harm fruits protected by leaves.

There's no good substitute for heat from the sun in ripening of tomatoes. The only thing home gardeners can do is pick the green tomatoes, or those that have started to color up, and put them on the back porch (they don't need sun) to ripen quicker than if left on the vines. We've covered our tomatoes with sheets during the day, and this helps ripening by trapping the heat inside. There are defolants for removing tomato leaves but they are not practical for the home gardener, and are not recommended here.

Stubborn Mums: Last year our readers had trouble with garden mums blooming two or three months ahead of schedule. The trouble was due to hot days we had last year. Now, this year, our friends tell us their mums were just the opposite and won't set buds. What causes this? "Blindness" or lack of flower buds has been attributed to many causes, but long days and night temperatures below 60 degrees is the only known cause of blindness of mums. Sometimes tarnished plant bug will cause it but this year the trouble can be pinpointed on the cool weather.

Question Box

By George Abraham
J. J. of Stroudsburg: "I heard that coffee grounds will poison a garden soil if used year after year. Is that true? What can be added to it to make the grounds safe?"

Coffee grounds are no more poisonous than the coffee you drink. If your soil is heavy, by all means sprinkle the grounds on it. Earthworms and bacterial activity will decompose the grounds into valuable humus. Grounds can be used on the compost pile or added directly to the garden or flower bed.

H. J. of Easton: "I always like to force some tulips and narcissi indoors, but never have good luck with them. I put the bulbs in pots and keep them in the cellar all fall. Then when I bring them out they start to flower when only 2 inches tall. What do I do that's wrong?"

The first requisite for successful bulb culture indoors is cold, dark corner where the bulbs may be stored while they're making root growth. Most modern cellars are too warm. An unused shed, or attic will work. The place must be cold enough to prevent tops from starting into growth before the roots have developed sufficiently. More than anything else, success or failure will depend on the perfection of the root-growth made before the actual "forcing" begins.

If you have no good spot for root forcing, dig a hole in the garden and bury your potted tulips under a covering of straw or leaves to keep frost out, and so you can lift the pots at any time. Absolute darkness in a cold temperature is needed for a period of 10 to 12 weeks to insure root growth. After that, bring gradually to light and heat, and always avoid overheated rooms.

R.E. of Wind Gap: "You say moles do not eat bulbs. I beg to differ. We followed a mole tunnel and it led right to the tulip bulbs which were eaten. Is there any control for moles?"
Moles ordinarily do not eat bulbs. They are after grubs and worms and make a nuisance of themselves in the process. Try using mole traps made of wire, and some gardeners have good luck using red balls in the tunnels. Some even use red pepper. Traps are your best bet.

United States Forms Corps Of Satellite Volunteers

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—The United States, reckoning with the possibility that its experimental earth satellites may become lost in the sky at times, is organizing a corps of about 1,500 volunteers to help keep track of them.

Details of Project Moonwatch were explained today by officials of the Smithsonian Institution's Astrophysical Observatory.

Generally, Project Moonwatch has features similar to those of the ground observation corps system used in the air defense setup. Dr. Armand N. Spitz, coordinator of the project, and Dr. J. Allen Hynek, associate director of the observatory in charge of the tracking program, explained to newsmen that:

Power

1. The battery power operating radio transmitters in the satellites probably will give out in two or three weeks, although the small 20-inch metallic globes may continue their orbiting at heights from 200 to 800 miles for many weeks or several months after being launched next year.

2. There is "no known radar" capable of tracking the satellites, which will present only a small reflecting surface traveling at a speed of 18,000 miles per hour.

3. The big, powerful telescopes could not, in themselves, locate a speeding satellite without being trained on a precise spot in the sky in advance.

4. Therefore, the task of Project Moonwatch will be to report the position and course of a satellite at precise times, to make possible the training of elaborate scientific instruments on the predicted path.

Hynek and Spitz emphasized that the work is entirely volunteer, including the fact that the volunteers must provide their own equipment. This should include an inexpensive, lower-power, broad-field telescope, which the officials thought might be homemade at a cost of between $25 and $50.

presented by Marilyn Shimer, flutist, and Baline Shover, pianist. Mrs. Cletus LaBar, school principal, introduced members of the faculty present, including two new teachers, Miss Mary Jane Catino and Robert LaPenna. A prize was awarded to Miss Catino.

Greene-Dreher Students Win Fair Awards

NEWFOUNDLAND — Greene-Dreher-Holstein High School students made a standout showing in a number of schoolboy events at the Wayne County Fair Wednesday.

With 80 4H and FFA boys entered, GDS had five placings in the first 10 in the dairy cattle judging contest, had the two top scorers in the Holstein classification—and made off with top honors in the tractor driving contest.

Greene-Dreher-Holstein had to concede the top rung in the cattle judging competition to Albert Wildenstein with Roger Gilpin and Franklin Madden, two Gold and Blue entrants, a close second and third. Other GDS participants placing were Earl McLain, seventh; Roy McLain, eighth and Wilfred Frick, tenth.

Holstein

In the Holstein classification, for the placings of the animals judged, Frank Madden scored 92 out of a possible 100 to take down top honors with Roger Gilpin next in line with an 89 score.

Edwards Simons won the tractor driving contest by a comfortable margin. The GDS junior scored a low of 75 points with the runners-up, John Kolmar and Amos Rutledge, deadlocked with 95 points. Their were 12 entrants, two each from each Future Farmers of America chapter in the county, in this competition with the winner to represent the county in a statewide contest to be held at the Pennsylvania State University next June.

Fifth Street Mission Officers, Teachers Meet

The teachers and officers of the Fifth Street Presbyterian Mission met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pooley of North 9th St., on Monday evening, September 10. The meeting was opened in prayer by Mr. Pooley. Reports were read by the secretary, Mrs. Nora Bradshaw and the treasurer, Mrs. Gladys Marsh. An informal business discussion followed in which several subjects were touched upon briefly. The Superintendent, John Neipert, asked for comments regarding the combined picnic and corn roast which was held at the mission August 23. All present agreed that it had been an enjoyable event; however, preference seemed to call for a separate picnic in the early part of the summer and a corn roast at the close of summer another year—providing the weather is more cooperative than this past summer.

The courses of study in the Beginner and Primary classes were discussed with the teachers, Kay Neipert, Dorothy Neipert and Gladys Marsh expressing their satisfaction with the present class material. It was also noted that the children of the Sunday School are showing a great deal of interest in the "attendance ticket system." Tickets are given to the children each Sunday they attend and as they accumulate, they are able to purchase gifts of their choosing which are on display at the mission.

The superintendent also brought to the attention of the group that the painting of the mission is progressing satisfactorily. He and another member of the mission, Stephen Taffinger, have been painting voluntarily throughout the summer.

Refreshments prepared by Mrs. Kay Neipert, Mrs. Nora Bradshaw and Mrs. Gladys Marsh were served at the close of the meeting.

Pius Book Wins Award

ROSETO—The "56 Claves, Pius X High School's annual, captured All Catholic, highest possible distinction awarded by the Catholic School Press Association in its annual national press contest.

"You take a rather ordinary theme and develop it excellently to make this an outstanding Catholic yearbook. Your many in-class photos showing formal education taking place are excellent and give proper emphasis to the intellectual life of your school. Your portraits are simply beautiful and your divisional page layouts and copy are excellently done," was the comment which accompanied the detailed critical data sheet.

Working with the advisor, Sister Jean and with Mr. Al Nittle of Apollo Studios, Madeleine Falcone of Second Street, Bangor, edited this second yearbook in Pius X's brief six-year history. Other '56 graduates who worked on the book were Theresa Capozzola, Maria Graziano, Juliana Hahn, Mary Lou De Rosa, and Rose Zanette.

OFF THE RECORD

By Bob Clark

SOMETIME in the future, and that may not be too far away, the newly born mythical Poccano-Slate Belt Scholastic Football Four may become a reality with added innovations and schools.

"Kicked around" talk of representatives of the Four, namely Pen Argyl, Bangor, Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High Schools, pointed toward this goal.

While the session the other night at the Daily Record offices dealt mainly with the rules, setting up the presentation of the Record's Football Trophy Award, discussion, at times, got around to the feasibility of the area school performing in the present Lehigh-Northampton and Lehigh Valley circuits.

A majority of the group present at the State Belt-Poccano Four Conference felt that something has to be done in the future concerning the equalization in scheduling the so-called big schools and little schools in the Le-N and LV circuits.

One member of the body from Pen Argyl suggested that possibly the two leagues could be merged and divided into one big conference and then subdivided into two groups according to enrollment.

Another high official of athletics noted that the principals and administrative heads of the Lehigh Valley institutions have already scraped the surface on such an idea.

Whatever path the educators of the various schools decide to take will be a road the right way. For our money, the setups in the Lehigh-Northampton and Lehigh Valley are as unbalanced as the 100-degree day in January.

For the most part, the Lehigh-Northampton football conference is dominated by Wilson and Nazareth highs. And with each year getting bigger by jointship, it isn't far wrong to feel that they will continue to be at the top or near the lead in years to come.

The same is true in the Lehigh Valley, Palmerton has been in front, except on rare occasions in basketball, and Northampton the same in the grid sport.

While our first suggestion of awhile ago didn't stress the forming of new loops within the Le-N and LV, the obstacles posed on the present league organizations opened the way for a more concrete and even group.

Four months ago, we believed, and still do, that is immediate area has the ripe material for one solid league. The State Belt-Poccano Four is a forerunner to that idea.

If the current heads decide to form or reorganize a conference with the same four participants or more, it certainly would be a feather for the area's cap.

With Pen Argyl, Bangor, East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg highs as the nucleus of the entire loop, the distance between the boroughs will be ideal (approximately 12 miles). By shortening the mileage of a circuit, the rivalry could be increased to a pitch where the feeling of next-door neighbor competition would prevail.

While the same four schools play each other now, all in the same circuit would create a close-knit relationship second to none.

We hope the day will come when the State Belt-Poccano Four rivals in competition and rivalry the Allentown-Bethlehem-Easton-Big Three and middle Pennsylvania's Big Six.

We think Bangor, East Stroudsburg, Pen Argyl and Stroudsburg high officials can make it a reality and the fans will react to the regrouping with whole-hearted support.

In other action the Eastburg group set Monday as the starting date of painting the new press box atop Memorial Stadium.

It was also announced that tickets for the "E" project may be picked up by members at Lloyd's Sporting Goods Store, East Stroudsburg.

The election of Waring to the midget football post completes the official governing group for the E-backed project which takes in boys in the 9 to 12 year bracket. The circuit will start play in the near future.

Mrs. Norelli won low gross laurels with 101, while Mrs. Haynes grabbed low net with 78. The tournament was a handicap affair.

Tigers Record 7th Straight

DETROIT, Sept. 13 (AP)—Ray Boone and Jack Phillips, with seven hits between them, sparked a 15-hit attack that carried the Detroit Tigers to their seventh straight victory, 7-2, over Washington today.

Right-hander Paul Foytack won his 13th game, restricting the Nats to five safeties as the Tigers completed a sweep of the three-game series.

Twin-Boro Ladies To Start Today

TWIN-BORO Ladies Bowling League will start off its 1956-57 campaign today at the Poccano Bowling Center, Stroudsburg, starting at 7 p.m.

The inaugural schedule: Alleys one and two—Quick's Restaurant vs. Baronsville Hotel.

Alleys three and four—Johnnie's Inn vs. Lawson Automotive.

Alleys five and seven and eight—MacNichols Sport Shop vs. Milers.

Catholic Youth Bowlers Ready

THE CATHOLIC Youth Teenage Bowling League will open its season tomorrow at Harmon's Recreation, East Stroudsburg, starting at 4:30 p.m.

The opening schedule: Alleys one and two—Team One vs. Team Two.

Alleys three and four—Team Three and Team Four.

Alleys five and six—Team Five and Team Six.

The arduous inaugural for both schools will be spelled by another attraction when the famed marching band of Bucknell University performs during the halftime intermission.

The Mountaineers of John Whitehead, after a month of strenuous drills, will enter the fray in top-flight condition. Except for a few minor injuries, the Mountaineers will be ready physically for the invasion of Lehigh.

Whitehead, whose line nucleus is built around four veterans, will probably start off with a forward wall tipping the beam near the 380-pound average mark. In 225-pound end, tackle and guard specialist Doug Shook, the Mountaineers will throw at Lehigh the balance of power weapon. To go along with Shook up front, the Mountaineer mentor has tackles Jim Wallace and Ron Stopp, pivotman Larry Buzzard, guard Larry Besecker and Ted Rieger and end Terry Bartleson.

One Newcomer

Three boys with experience and one newcomer will probably get the nod from Whitehead in the starting backfield. The holdovers are quarterback Don Stopp, halfbacks Ron Phillips and newcomer Dick Cramer and fullback Bill Bolich. The new addition to the speedy ground offensive unit is Dick Cramer.

Stroudsburg, which will work out of the T-formation with backs slicing, driving and slanting, is expected to depend heavily on its offense to make up for dents in the defensive armor.

Lehigh, reports from the Lehigh Valley area say, is on the upgrade in the football world and is in the process of a rebuilding program.

Bucknell Band

The 75-piece Bucknell Bison organization, which has been training the past two weeks at the Hemlock Lodge, South Sterling, will appear first at an assembly program this morning at the high school auditorium.

The majorette-led Lewisburg musical organization will display fancy stepping during their pregame and half time performance at Giffels under the arc lights tonight.

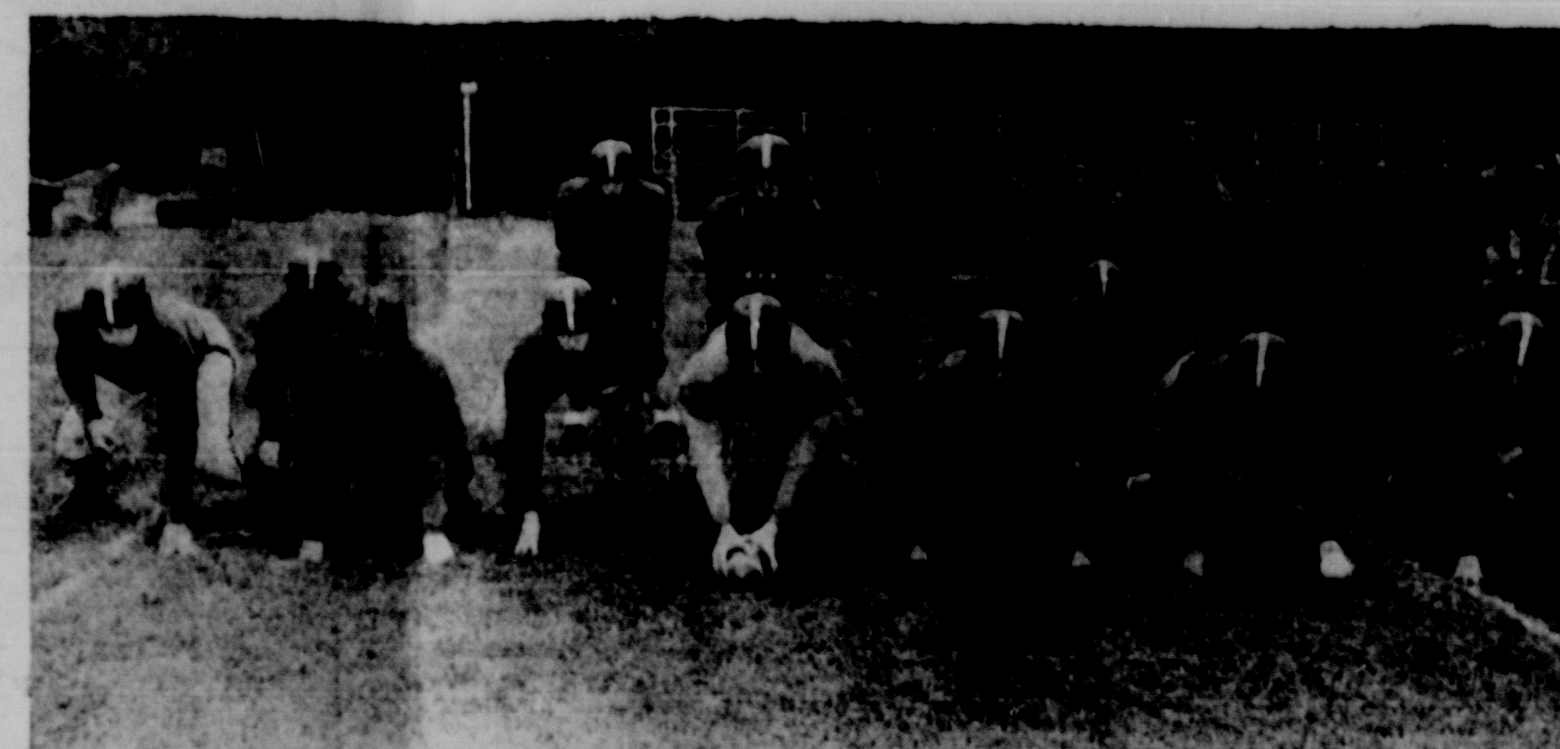

Following its opening performance here the Bucknell unit will leave for Lewisburg tomorrow after being overnight guests of the Varsity "B" Association at the Penn Stroud and American hotels.

Parking Situation

Mahlon Serfass, faculty manager of athletics at Stroudsburg, announced that parking will be limited at Giffels. He said a limited amount of space on the west side of the fieldhouse is available for a few vehicles.

He said, however, that the main parking area will be the Stroudsburg playground field, which is also known as the softball field. To get into the softball area, cars must go in the driveway on the east end of the high school (near Buck's Mart). The west end drive on the upper side of the school will be closed to all traffic. Traffic leaving after the game will come aside of the Morey school.

Serfass also added that the ticket booths will open at 6:30 p.m. for public sales.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 13 (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves surged two full games in front of the Philadelphia Phillies tonight.

Leftfielder Bobby Thomson made a brace of game-saving throws, the first of which won him a reprieve from the $100 fine imposed by Manager Fred Haney after Thomson tried to steal home against Brooklyn last Wednesday.

Jones To Test Mintz Protege

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—Wally Greaves, the 19-year-old Canadian on whom Jake Mintz says he'll stake his reputation, makes his bid for station in mid-dleweight life against veteran Ralph Tiger Jones in the 10-round main event at Capitol Arena tomorrow night.

Reds Keep Alive

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 13 (AP)—Cincinnati's pennant-hungry Redlegs came back from the verge of defeat with a two-run rally in the ninth inning tonight to defeat the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-4. ## Bangor Meets Palmerton Away Tomorrow

BANGOR—The State Pickers of Coach Granville Evans hit the road for the opening contest of the 1956 season tomorrow afternoon and as Coach Evans stated yesterday, "We meet an unknown adversary, as to strength, power and offense."

Traveling to Palmerton, Bangor takes on a highly respected and undefined factor in meeting the Blue Bombers, always a hard team to master in their own backyard. "Not only are we not aware of Palmerton's potential, but our own forces are completely untested," Coach Evans stated. Being forced to fill many gaps in the line, due to graduation and the failure of three veterans to report for this year's team, a rebuilding process has been going at all practice sessions of the past four weeks. However, Bangor's coaches have indicated that the team is in good physical condition and definitely want to play football.

The failure of Sam Heard and Mike Danko, veteran ends to return to the wars posed quite a problem at the outset but Bangor's coaching staff now has indicated the question may have been answered. Ken Haas, a freshman end of 175 pounds, tall, rangy and aggressive, has come along so fast that the Bangor coaching staff smiles with satisfaction when they see this boy in action. His running mate at the other end is converted quarter-back Ron ReNardo, who by his speed gives promise for happier days.

Top Conditions

It is expected that all varsity squad members will be in shape for tomorrow's game with the exception of Barry Moore, rangy tackle, who has been nursing a foot injury for the past several days. He still remains as doubtful for the Palmerton encounter.

Bangor will enter the contest with six varsity starters from last season in the person of two line and an entire veteran backfield. Line veterans include Robert Butz, powerhouse guard and husky Chuck Woolley at tackle. Woolley is the biggest man on the Bangor squad sporting a mean 240 pounds of heft to both the offensive and defensive maneuvers of the State Pickers.

The backfield, pending a display of old form could be a coach's dream. Returning to the wars are veteran J. L. Williams at quarter, an adept passer and runner; speedster Glen Heard at one half and Robert Finelli, scat back extra-ordinary at the other half while power house plunger and leather lugger Dale Miller, balancing the scale at 195 pounds will line up at full back.

Soph Starters

All of Bangor's other starters will come from the sophomore class, with one exception, George

Collura will start at the other tackle as a running mate to Woolley and is a rough, agile and aggressive lineman. Frankie Butz, brother of Robert, guard will be at center, and joins the varsity after a stellar year with last season's Jayvee squad. Gene Trigiani will be at the other guard and indications are that what he gives away in weight will be matched with fight and love of the game. Spectators who have seen him in scrimmage sessions have nick-named him the "watch-fob guard." Rounding out the starting assignments will be Ken Haas, of whom great things are expected this season.

First string replacements include Earl Walters and Gary Sandercock at ends; Bob Lahey and Gary Smith at tackles; Joe Martucci and Kim LaBar at guards and Michael Piccirillo at center. In the backfield it will be Barry Reimer at quarter; Bob Menhennitt and Tom Menhennitt, cousins making their first varsity bid at the halves and Davanzo at full back.

Game time is listed at Palmerton for 2 p.m. The high school band will not make this trip since it is not a league contest, but will appear at the first home game on September 21 against Cataaugus.

Jack Kist's Eleven Faces Slatington Under Arclights

EAST STROUDSBURG High School will open its 1956 scholastic football campaign today when the Cavaliers of Head Coach Jack Kist take at Slatington High on the Slaters Field, starting at 8 p.m.

Stock Races At Nazareth Off Sunday

NAZARETH—There will be no races Sunday afternoon at the Nazareth Fairgrounds, but — the following Sunday, Sept. 23, at 2 p.m., the sensational stock car races will return.

The track will be closed this week for two reasons: 1—to permit an extensive overhauling, with safety inspections; and 2—to permit car owners to get their racers in tip-top condition for the banner 50-lap feature on Sept. 23.

Nazareth's halfmile oval will be in its finest shape of the year on Sept. 23 for one of the season's most attractive race cards. There will be 92 laps—or 368 turns—of speed events, with the big 50-lap feature as the windup race.

Jerry Fried, promoter, closed his track for one week to make sure that both the track and the cars will be ready for the Sept. 23 show. This action is unprecedented in Fried's 5-year promotion, and is made to assure fans of the best in speed during the tremendously impressive 50-lap feature race.

Hot Newcomer

Last week's winner, Ralph Smith, Aberdeen, Md., is one of the hottest newcomers to come to appear at Nazareth and he'll lead the drivers on Sept. 23 as they take the starting line. There will be more than 50 cars from Maryland, Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey in competition. Modified and sportsman cars will compete.

Nazareth's policy of pitting name drivers against local stars will continue as the season progresses.

Miami Is Seen Site Of Carm, Saxton Return

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 13 (P) — The world welterweight crown again rests faintly on the head of Carmen Basilio, who is bound to give Johnny Saxton a January rematch, possibly in Miami.

Basilio, the former union fighter from nearby Canastota, tasted the sweet fruit of his most satisfying victory today after Wednesday night's ninth-round technical knockout over the man he claimed "robbed" him in Chicago.

"I had to prove I didn't lose in Chicago," said Basilio at a press conference. "What could possibly mean more to me than winning back my title?"

Johnny DeJohn and Joe Nerto, Basilio's co-managers, said they were not interested in any match with Sugar Ray Robinson for the middleweight title until they had gone through with their rematch as agreed.

Basilio's purse of $37,662 plus enough to make $50,000 was held in escrow as a guarantee that he would give Saxton another chance, according to Frank Blinsky Palermo, Saxton's unlicensed manager.

A crowd of 8,546 paid a gross gate of $134,939, a record for the Syracuse War Memorial Auditorium. Adding an extra $75,000 from radio-TV and subtracting taxes, the total net was $188,317. Saxton's 40 per cent came to $75,324.

Kist's proteges, hobbled by injuries to two promising players and over-all inexperience among the 50 candidates, will take the field with only two regulars from last year's starting array.

Injuries to inner lineman Bob Stine and end Woody Mosteller have left Kist and his assistants Del Davis, Jim Werkheiser and Doug Schoonover with depth problems for the inaugural.

Kist's opening lineup, which still is in the probable stage, has '55 regulars Co-Captains tackle Roger Strouse and halfback Frank Lupin as the only boys endowed with plenty of game experience in the starting team.

May Start
The tentative roster set to open against Slatington today has Wes Werkheiser, who replaced the injured Mosteller, at one end post, and Bob Gordon, a 142-pounder at the other flank.

At the tackles, Strouse and Ed Yakencheck, are expected to get the nod. Jim Brimer or Jim Strunk and Horace Cole will probably man the guard posts.

The center position will be taken care of by the Dick Wolslayer, who in pre-game drills has shown great potential.

In the backfield, Charley Lupin or Bob Herman will share signal-calling at quarterback, Frank Lupin and Ralph Carter will be at the halves and Harry Miller at fullback.

Kist has some capable reserves in the backfield in the persons of Roger Ray, a speedster, and Phil Simon, a shifty runner.

Won Opener

East Stroudsburg will be facing an eleven which already has posted a 19-0 victory on the record books. Slatington blanked Coplay in its opener last week.

The Cavaliers will field one of the lightest teams in the school's grid history and the lightest since Kist took over the reins. Eastburg will average less than 160 on the forward wall and about 145 pounds in the backfield.

Scouting reports indicated that Slatington will field a big club, not exceptionally fast on the forward wall, but with plenty of speed in the backfield.

Advanced Team

It was also noted that the Slaters in their opening game with Coplay displayed an offense and defense that were newer a mid-season form eleven than one just opening its season.

East Stroudsburg's team will leave from the high school gymnasium, N. Courtland St., at 5:30 p.m. today for the trip to Slatington. Kist expects to suit approximately 35 players for the game.

Ford Posts 18th As Yanks Edge A's; Mantle Hits 48th

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 13 (P)—Whitey Ford stubbornly fought off the Kansas City Athletics in the late innings today to win his 18th victory for the New York Yankees, 3-2, as Mickey Mantle hit home run No. 48—his first since Aug. 31.

Mickey also hit a double in the first inning behind Enos Slaughter's single and rode home on Yogi Berra's single that got the New Yorkers away to a 2-0 lead off lower Tom Gorman. The homer came in his next time at bat in the third and ended the Yankee scoring. Bobby Shantz and Jack Crimian handuffed the New York power hitters the rest of the way.

Ford got the first 11 Athletics before Lou Skizas doubled in the fourth.

Hits by Vic Power and Hee Lopez, plus a base on balls to Skizas cost Ford a run in the sixth and Sultase Simpson hit into a run-scoring double play. Another base on balls to Eddie Robinson and Mike Baxes' double off the left-field fence brought the A's other run in the seventh.

League officials emphasized that only boys who were 12 are eligible to make the trip.

An earlier schedule had Crowe's meeting the Easton Fleas away but the misunderstanding was cleared up in a revised slate.

Johnson Tops Indians For Orioles, 4-1

CLEVELAND, Sept. 13 (P) — A combination of five-hit pitching by Connie Johnson and two home runs by big Gus Triandos enabled the Baltimore Orioles to salvage the finale of a three-game series as they beat the Cleveland Indians 4-1 today at Municipal Stadium. The Indians' only run was scored on a homer by Bob Avila.

Triandos' homers were his 17th and 18th of the season. The first one, over the center-field fence in the second inning, gave the Orioles a lead they never relinquished.

Bushkill Nine Drills Tomorrow

Association Closes Year Of Operation

GILBERT—The close of a successful first year of operation will be noted by the West End Community Ambulance Association at its annual meeting next Monday night at Chestnut Hill High School, Brodheadsville.

With 960 members now on its rolls, the association has launched a drive to wipe out the last $1,500 of its original indebtedness of $8,150. Cost of the three-car ambulance was $7,250. Insurance, costs of operation and legal matters accounted for approximately $900, according to Maurice E. Kresge, president.

During its first year of operation, the ambulance traveled 4,200 miles in making 67 trips. The period covered was to Aug. 20, Kresge reported.

Memberships

Renewal membership cards have been mailed to present members and to other residents of the territory which the ambulance corps serves. President Kresge yesterday reminded everyone to return the cards, along with their membership fee, at the earliest possible moment.

He also said that any West End people who did not receive a card may join the association by contacting the West End Community Ambulance Association, whose mail address is Gilbert.

The ambulance is housed in quarters at Gilbert Inn which Raymond Repp has donated.

Matters to be considered at Monday's meeting will include the purchase of a folding chair which can be used to remove patients from places where it is impossible to reach with cots. Kresge said plans for equipping the ambulance with oxygen also will be considered.

Election of directors for the coming year will take place. The nominating committee consists of Edgar Hamm, Dr. Robert J. Arner and Lloyd Altomose, Brodheadsville; Robert Anderson, Gilbert, and William Flick, Saylorsburg. The newly elected directors will meet later to select officers.

Firemen said the ruins were still too hot for a search to determine whether the handyman could have been trapped in the fire.
